This is not a computer-generated soft skills course with lots of data slides and a robot voice. This is taught by K. Ravinther, a real human being, talking and sharing with you directly (because one essential soft skill is the ability to speak directly to people and not hide behind computers and graphics).

The training will be delivered virtually using meeting tools like Zoom. The training methodology will use Live Online Learning Activities! The courses will be conducted either in English Language or in Bahasa Malaysia or a mix of both for the convenience of the learner.

1. You need to download and use the Zoom application from your app store.
2. Not all features and capabilities will be the same and some activities demonstrated might work differently on your mobile device.
3. Willingness to learn things outside of your job description
